

Abstract for LEAP Presentation, October 18, 2013

Lily Corman Penzel

“Baby Steps and Reality Checks: My Experience with Museum Accessibility”

This summer I was the first ever Accessibility Intern at the Peabody Essex Museum in Salem, Ma. This meant meeting with staff members at PEM and access departments at other museums and institutions. I also learned about accessibility law and compiled a list of recommendations for the museum.